A Tranquil Spot in an Urban Center Osaka Garden Rededicated in Goodwill

The gate of Osaka Japanese Garden in Jackson Park made improvements for the Garden since last September. Dead trees were replaced with junipers, old trees and shrubs were removed, some surrounding the pond were braced, a pump in waterfall was replaced, the moon bridge and teahouse were repaired, parts around the Garden were repaired, and leaves in the water and around the premises were cleaned.
The history of the Osaka Garden goes back to the World's Columbian Exposition held in 1893.

Turn Your Nervousness to Positive Energy Principal Trombone Megumi Kanda

Megumi Kanda is principal trombone player at the Milwaukee Symphony Orchestra and the first woman who won the principal trombone position in major orchestras in the U.S. Everyone experiences nervousness when they perform on stages or audition. Kanda overcame nervousness and was selected from 100 players.
She generously disclosed her keys to win auditions saying, "Make a list what you have to do and read it again and again. Doing so, your concentration on your audition will be focused."
In 1973, Kanda was born in Tokyo to an American mother and Japanese father who is a reverend and a special envoy.
